Superintendent—Dundee Community Schools

Mr. Harry B. Nelson

Harry Nelson

As I view the passing events of another year my reflections bring back many memories, some of them to be cherished for many years to come, some of them perhaps best forgotten. They are all inseparably entwined with this school. How fortunate we are to enjoy all the privileges available to us, remembering always the responsibilities which accompany each of them. We have our pessimists who like Hesiod, a Greek poet of the 8th century before Christ, wrote, "I see no hope for the future of our people if they are dependent on the frivolous youth of today." Hesiod was wrong, but the challenge is still there. Prove to the world that youth individually and as a group can and will keep this land of ours the greatest on the face of the earth. Do you accept this challenge?

Board of Education

The Board of Education is an elected body assigned the legal responsibilities of providing the means for the education of the boys and girls of this community. Administrators are appointed by the Board to carry out the broad policies developed. Policies are developed from the advice given by the administrators, our own experience and contacts with the people of this community. We expect our administrators to work closely with our teaching staff. The teachers compose the bulk of our staff. These are the people directly involved in your learning process. They are the most important influence on your life as a student. We expect our teachers to be competent in their chosen fields and to have a deep concern for the educational welfare of each student they instruct. We also expect our students to respect our teachers and fully use the services they are here to provide. By all of us working together—students, teachers, administrators, board of education and parents—Dundee has and will continue to have a fine school system.

Beside the New Pool

The completion of an additional class room wing and swimming pool marks another milestone in our history. Sponsored and supported by the citizens of this community we now have a fine and complete educational complex. We have found that the pool has been accepted by our people beyond all expectations. In terms of use during the school day, evenings and the summer vacation period, we can safely say that it is the most economical structure we have built to date. The modest charges made for pool use, not considered directly associated with school activity, have been found acceptable by the public. It is our hope that in a very few years every student in our school will learn to swim and enjoy the healthful and recreational values which go along with this activity.

STUDY

This is the major task facing the average high school student in his secondary school career. Books and assignments seem to pile up. Hours are spent in the library studying, finding, and assembling material which, hopefully, will help the student get good grades. Study is, indeed, hard work, but when exam time rolls around, most of us feel it was worthwhile.

APPLIED KNOWLEDGE

The grueling work, worry, time consumption, brain-racking, and burning the midnight oil is just not worth the mere attainment of knowledge. An abundance of knowledge can rate a person a living text book or a quiz-show whiz, but the real value of learning is the contribution a person makes to the betterment of self or public by applying his knowledge to the solving or easing of problems which confront him and society. Knowledge is too hard come by to be merely aired in exhibition or used to satisfy the ego. More complete and wholesome satisfaction is won by knowing that any past drudgery was not experienced in vain when you put to work what was so difficult to find. What a waste it would be to spend years of life tediously extracting the gems of learning only to leave them lying dull and unpolished in the mind.

THE FUTURE

An entity which cannot be ignored as it lies ahead for everyone. We struggle through tests, research for term papers, confer with our counselors about our careers, and do numerous daily assignments—all in preparation for our future. Our educators seek to help us realize the ever-growing necessity for alert, intelligent citizens who will face a very demanding adult life—the future which will soon be our present.

Explanation

The good teacher doesn't just hand out assignments. He explains and gives supplementary material. Where the textbook fails to explain, the teacher can succeed by providing examples and a little added individual attention which shows that he does care how well the student progresses.

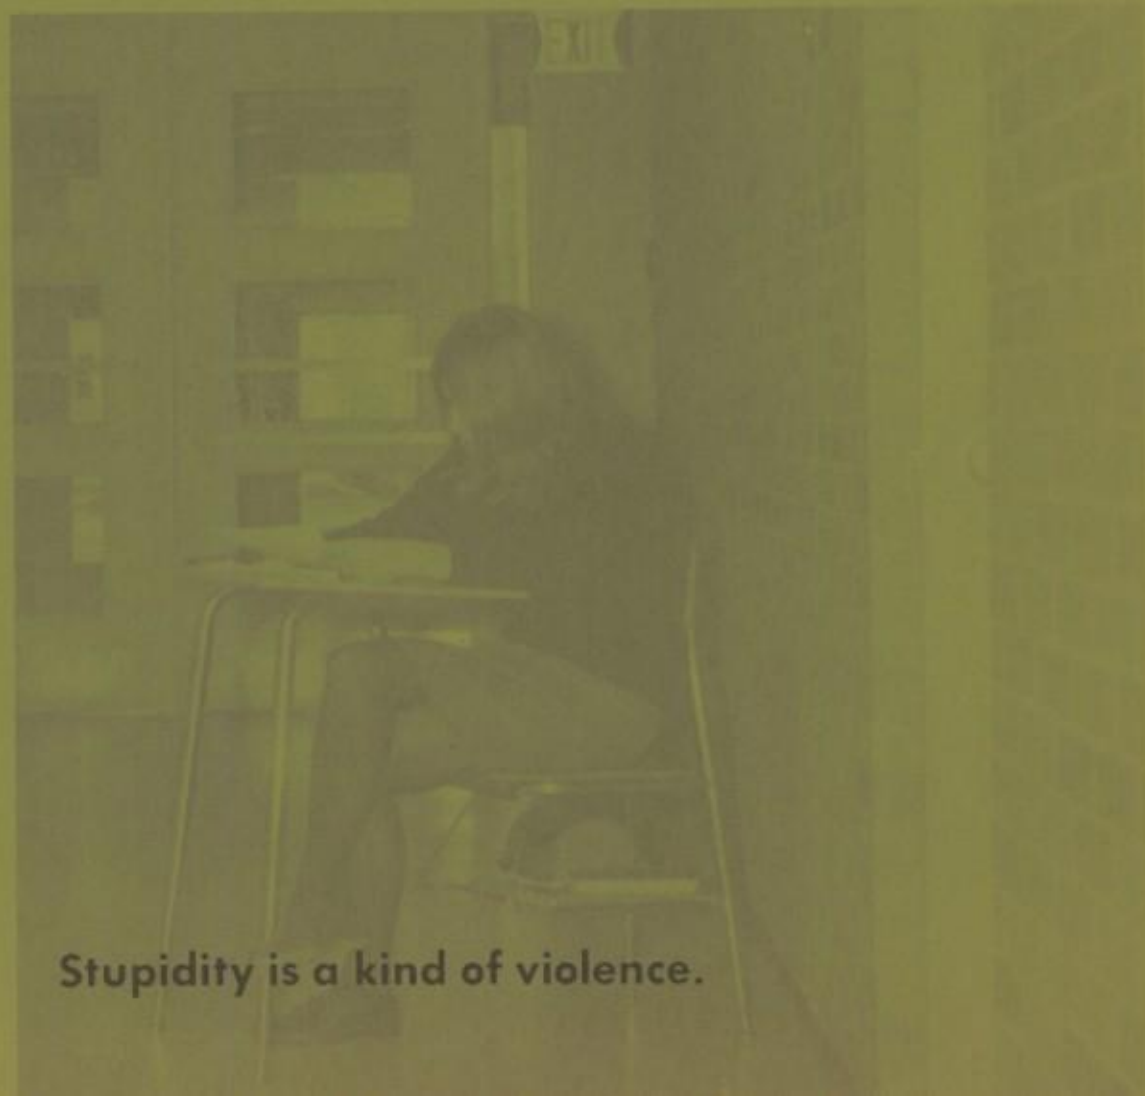
The Student's Job

The student should take his responsibilities seriously and study hard to increase his knowledge of his world. He should recognize the faults in history and apply their significance to our modern time. His English, math, science and other courses should be handled with equal sobriety because his own future as well as the world's will depend greatly on the skills, knowledge, intelligence, and ability to use what he knows. Taking active part in class is essential to doing a good job for it boosts the learning process by getting the student involved. Active participation also demonstrates the student as a working model who can and will accept that he must to do his part to help build a better world.



Stupidity is a kind of violence.

THE STAIRCASE

It wasn't too long ago that I started climbing those worn and crooked steps. One at a time I trudged toward the top slowly, with difficulty. The rotten plaster from the walls beside me fell in my pathway, making it even more difficult to move from one step to the next.

But I had to keep climbing. I had to. And as I crawled up the lonely staircase, I passed a hundred high school dances and a thousand football games. I watched so many short loves rise and fall. Because of all the sad things that hid the good things, I shed a million secret tears. On my way up, I wanted to reach the top so badly. I cried and prayed that some day, when I awoke, I would find those hurtful steps had vanished, find that there never had been any steps.

Finally I met the top. I looked down at all the dilapidated steps which had been my foes. Now they stood silent and content in their defeat. Now they were ready for me to cast them aside and walk into the world without having to touch those enchanted footholes.

And as I walked away from that part of my life, I knew that the next staircase would never be so great, so terrifying as the first. Never would I tackle such strong emotions as I had been introduced to on the previous steps. And never again, never ever in my whole life would I want to go back to another stair case as badly as I wanted to go back to this one.

HURRAY for new teachers with new ideas and experienced teachers with new ideas!

We students are knowledgeable on many topics and we would like to say something—have our say—on what is planned for our future—our lives. We are very much interested in what subjects are taught, how they are taught, the facilities we do have and the ones we would like to have. We are interested and concerned about our "patterns of learning"; that is, how we are being taught and whether there is a genuine concern and responsibility in our teachers' attitudes and methods. We're involved in change and our viewpoints are important. Our educators should be willing to listen and discuss with open minds.

The freedom to speak our mind—to Speak Out—was a right too long supressed and long desired. The students have attempted to Speak Out with sit-ins, love-ins, and walk-outs. Yet the only voice much of the adult world could hear was its own—protesting long hair, slang, and cut-off-jeans. Teenagers today Speak Out through spontaneous discussions and decisions, incurable curiosities, and the urge to learn something new—sometimes mystical. Our attire and appearance are trivia when compared to the problems which face us today (both adults and teens):—Biafra, Viet Nam, ABMs, pollution, poverty, drugs, and all the rest. We're worried—afraid. Simply, our goals are very traditional—Life, liberty and (LOVE) the pursuit of happiness.

hastily. In 1825 when Riley brought his bride to the land of the river Raisi they stayed in Monroe until a suitable addition could be built on the Ingers cabin.

In 1827, the Ingersolls traveled along the road that followed the bends a curves of the Raisin—walked on and on until they came to the house Riley h built for his new wife. At this time, the narrow, winding trail was the only ro from Dundee to Monroe.

It was during this year, 1827, that the dam across the river was built a the county divided into townships. These were: Frenchtown, Monroe, Rais nville, Erie, and Port Lawrence—now called Toledo. In 1828 a new sawm was to be erected at Dundee—men came from Monroe and Petersburg to he with the construction. Early in the morning, men, women, and children ca prepared to enjoy a respite from the lonely, rather isolated life on the new fro tier. There were Burchards, Gales, Sorters, Farewells and many others—a brought tools and the hearty food for which our frontier women were famou It was this same year that roads were built from Port Lawrence (Toledo) Adrian; Monroe to Ypsilanti; and from Monroe to Dexter.

The turnpikes and the sawmill soon brought more people to Dundee. Schoo were established and the Ingersolls were especially interested education—young Richard Ingersoll, the first child born in Dundee, would ha Familiar faces and places will never be forgotten.

In little communities all over the state men came to carve homes out of the wilderness. From New York state came a man called Riley Ingersoll. It was 1823 and he was looking for a place to establish a home in the raw new land. The country around Dundee seemed to be exactly what he was looking for. Riley stood on a knoll and gazed over the fertile land in the region of the river Raisin; he decided that this soil would grow good crops. Here he would build and establish a home for the girl he had left waiting for him in New York.

George Wilcox, a friend from his home, came to Michigan and helped Ingersoll clear a field and plant his first crop of wheat. By modern standards this would be considered hardly a basis for financing a marriage. In 1824, Ingersoll's three acres of wheat provided the money he would need to bring his intended bride to Michigan.

The crude cabin in which the two men lived had been erected a chance to attend school. These first settlers were very anxious for their children to have an opportunity to receive more formal education than they had been able to acquire.

The admission of Michigan to statehood quelled the Ingersoll's concern over the border dispute between Michigan and Ohio. Washington, in a clever move to resolve the touchy issue which had precipitated the "bloodless" Toledo war, made the provision that before Michigan could become a state, she must accept the Upper Penninsula in trade for the area which our present-day Toledo is a part. All during the troubled time, Ingersoll had expected that he would have to leave his wife and child; would be called to help in the fight for the disputed territory. Now, in 1837, a portion of Wisconsin lands had been given to Michigan in place of the area she relinquished to her neighbor, Ohio. Both states were awarded the territory that had been the cause of so much bitter dispute. Dundee continued to grow and attract new settlers—and it is still growing.

According to one of Dundee's older residents, the home of Joseph Kish on Brewer Road is the house built by Captain Richard Ingersoll; he was the first child born in Dundee township.

Dundee is only a small part of our vast state—the town's history could be that of any one of a number of communities. The story of Riley Ingersoll, with variations, is repeated over and over again in historic records found in the homes of Michiganians. We can only guess at the thoughts and feelings of these men and women who tamed a wilderness; these pioneers who laid the foundation for the colorful, intriguing Michigan. As a part of Dundee, we are proud to build upon that foundation.

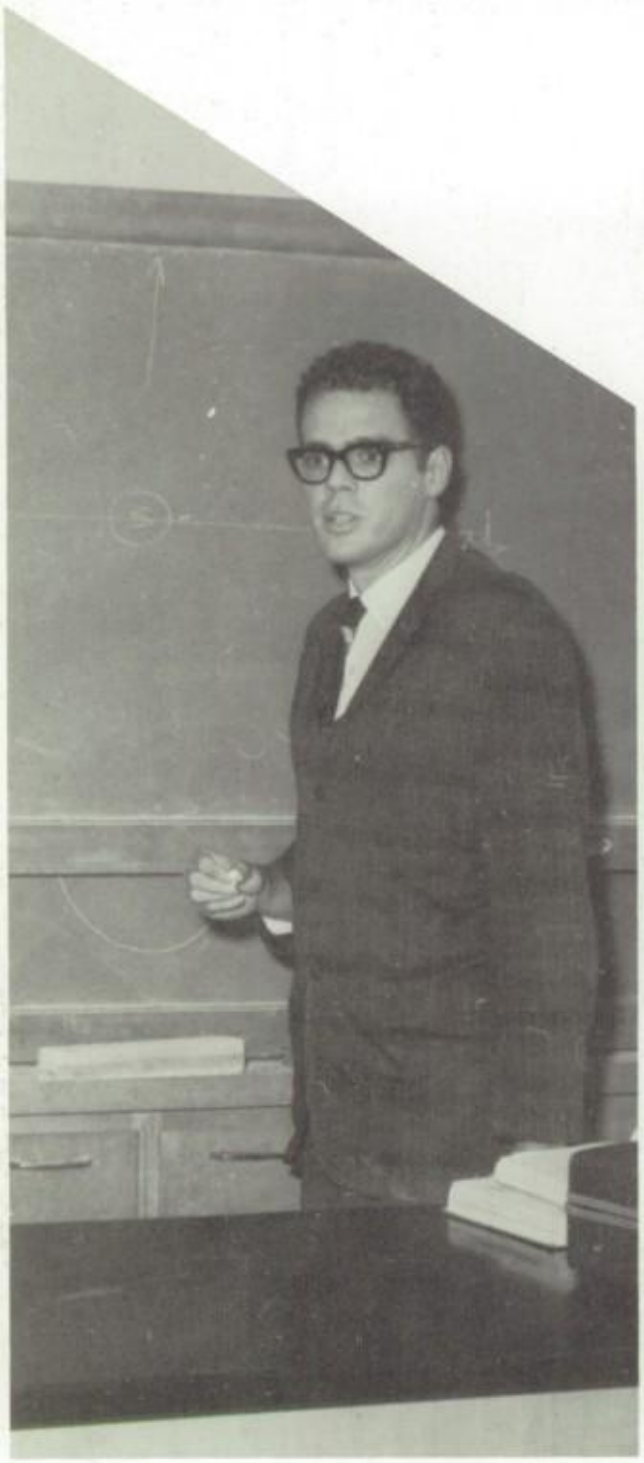
Underclassmen Potpourri

In the midst of their humorous antics and exuberance, the underclassmen of Dundee High School are responsible, inventive and industrious. They display their talents through sports, our organizations, our student government and in our community where they work.



I'd rather do it myself!

Student Government

Senior High Representatives

The Student Government of Dundee High School is a select group of fellow classmates chosen by us to represent our individual classes and to work in unity with our faculty and administration in seeking out solutions to our new problems and solving our old ones. As leaders, this group is capable and responsible. Not only is our Student Government beneficial to each of us, but the organization itself is instructional to its members in methods and procedures of democratic government.

The National Honor Society is an organization formed to honor the juniors and seniors who have maintained a high scholastic point average of 3.0 or better. Each year new members of the junior class and a few seniors are inducted into the society. With the honor of membership go responsibilities of loyalty to the school, maintenance and encouragement of high standards of leadership, character, scholarship and service.

This year an added privilege was granted to the senior members. They are allowed to use their free hour for recreation, educational purposes, free study, or any activity which doesn't infringe upon school policy.

This year's Tempus staff is a group of ambitious students who are willing to give up several hours a week to make the yearbook possible. They along with their adviser, Mrs. Jean Whitton, have a more interesting, exciting, and original yearbook than ever before.

We're only short $2,468.52

This year the Tempus staff has attempted to put out the most outstanding edition ever. We hope it is eye-appealing as well as a more informative book. Sacrifice, work, thought, and more work have gone into our 1969 Tempus. With timely design and format we hope to capture the spontaneity of our generation.

Tempus Preparations

Work for our book begins in the spring. Usually our ads are sold and pictures are taken in the summer—ideally that is. And by Christmas vacation "chaos comes again." By springtime the pages are finished—ideally. However, January brings guilt feelings and nervous tummies. March brings a barrage of overdue pictures and dog-eared copy from floors of old lockers and somehow by the end of the month the pages fall (literally) into place. We sigh with relief and hope someone has remembered to sell subscriptions.

Stuck with the "dummies" again, huh?

With vigor and vitality we strive . . .

That's right. No pictures for these pages.

Interesting picture. Wonder who they are.

Meeting? What meeting?

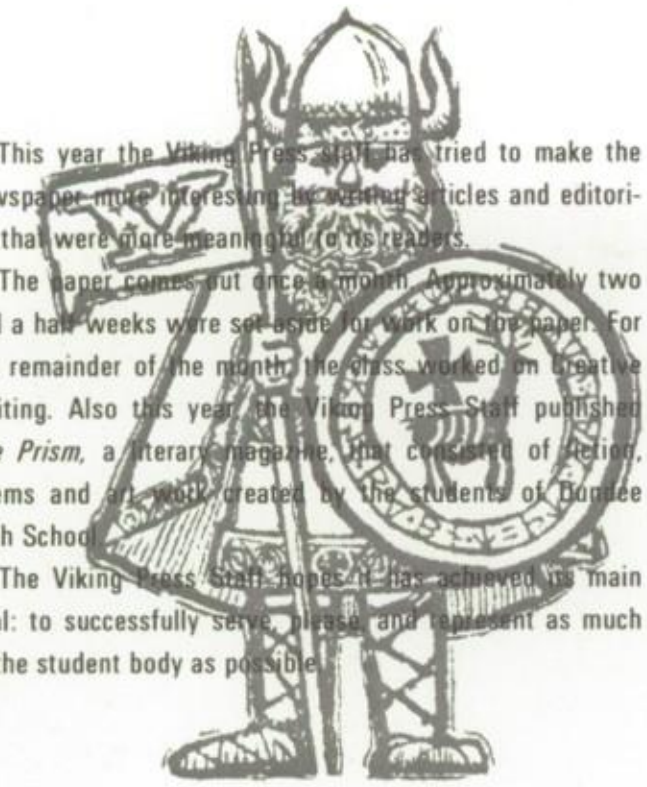
Viking Press



This year the Viking Press staff has tried to make the newspaper more interesting by writing articles and editorials that were more meaningful to its readers.

The paper comes out once a month. Approximately two and a half weeks were set aside for work on the paper. For the remainder of the month, the class worked on Creative Writing. Also this year, the Viking Press Staff published The Prism, a literary magazine, that consisted of fiction, poems and art work created by the students of Dundee High School.

The Viking Press Staff hopes it has achieved its main goal: to successfully serve, please, and represent as much of the student body as possible.

Dundee High School

The Dundee High School Band has taken on a few new features this year. To develop our band to the highest degree, we have added music theory class to our schedule. This class gives us an insight on the construction of scales, time signatures, and composition of music. Mr. Atwood is the instructor for this class which meets every Monday morning.

As in past years, members of our band have participated in the County Honor Band and the Solo and Ensemble Festivals. These events hold high honors for the students who have spent hours of practice in preparation to play and come out with a high rating.

The District Band Festival, which is the high point of the band's school year, is held in March. Our hours of practice at home and our evening practices at school will determine how we fare. Mr. Atwood is very confident in saying our band is of high quality in both marching and concert aspects.

Senior Band

We have added an assistant band director, Mr. Hurary, who helps Mr. Atwood with the Junior High and our newly developed orchestra. Our orchestra is forming down in the elementary, and the members should be a promising group in the future.

We had a very good marching season this year. We are planning to return to the Tulip Festival this spring and represent the Dundee High School with a fine performance.

Honor Band Musicians

Student musicians from several schools in Monroe county compete for a chair in the Honor Band. They are judged on how well they play 1) scales, 2) sight-read, 3) an assigned piece of music. Honor Band chairs are assigned to the musicians receiving the highest number of points.

They, too, participate in the Solo and Ensemble Festival and Band Festival. This competition will help them develope their musical ability and make them better bandsmen in the future.

Cathy and her Friends in South America.

Cathy's first stop was in Brazil where she spent three weeks. Then they went on to Montevido, the capitol of Uruguay, where they spent one week. Their travels next took them to Buenos Aries, Argentina and Santiago, Chile. Each member lived with a different family in each country. A "barn storming tour" was taken. During this tour they lived with a different family everyday. The Chorale had 61 members who were well received when they gave many concerts in schools and municipal buildings.

This organization was formed for those interested in the study of scientific fields. Its purpose is to encourage scientific learning and achievement through observation and experiment and discussion. So far this year the accent has been on discussion. As for observation, one trip to the Ford plants in Dearborn has been made, with trips to the Dundee Cement Plant and the Owens-Illinois Tech Center planned for the future. At present there are two projects in progress; one is a planaria under the direction of Dan Schultz and the other is the construction of a computer.

The Librarians

Libraries are not made, they grow. With the assistance of fourteen energetic student librarians, our library has grown into a learning resource center. Without the help of the student librarians, it would be impossible to have an effective library.

This year Diane Costea worked in the library each afternoon under the Co-op program. Diane's clerical responsibilities were a great asset to the operation of the library.

Included in the activities of the student librarians was a trip to Central Michigan University, where they met with 1,000 other student librarians for their annual SLAAM meeting. At this time, Sharon Rohrbach was elected secretary of the state organization.

Each year one girl from each FHA chapter may run for state office. Janet Hale attended the State FHA meeting at Grand Rapids on April 18 and was elected to the office of State Parliamentarian for the year of 1968–1969. Her duties as State Parliamentarian are to assist in conducting meetings in a business-like way, to serve as chairman of the State By-laws Committee, and to help officers understand their responsibilities as outlined in the By-laws of the Michigan Association of Future Homemakers of America.

The Future Homemakers of America seek to promote appreciation of the joys and satisfaction of homemaking and to emphasize the importance of worthy home membership. They also hope to foster the development of leadership in the home and community life and to promote international good will.

The eight-sided emblem symbolizes the eight purposes of the organization: truth, love, security, faith, fostering strong homes today, providing firm foundations of tomorrow, the home's influence on the community, the community's influence on the home.

Since the entire FTA program is designed as one exploration into the teaching profession, exploratory cadet teaching is one of the most important and most exciting opportunities offered by the FTA program. It is a plan whereby qualified club members through class observation and supervised participation in a classroom situations get first hand experiences in a classroom. The plan is designed to interest more young people in the profession of teaching. Through this plan the students may discover the various opportunities in teaching, determine their own fitness to become teachers, and decide upon the level or type of teaching in which they wish to specialize.

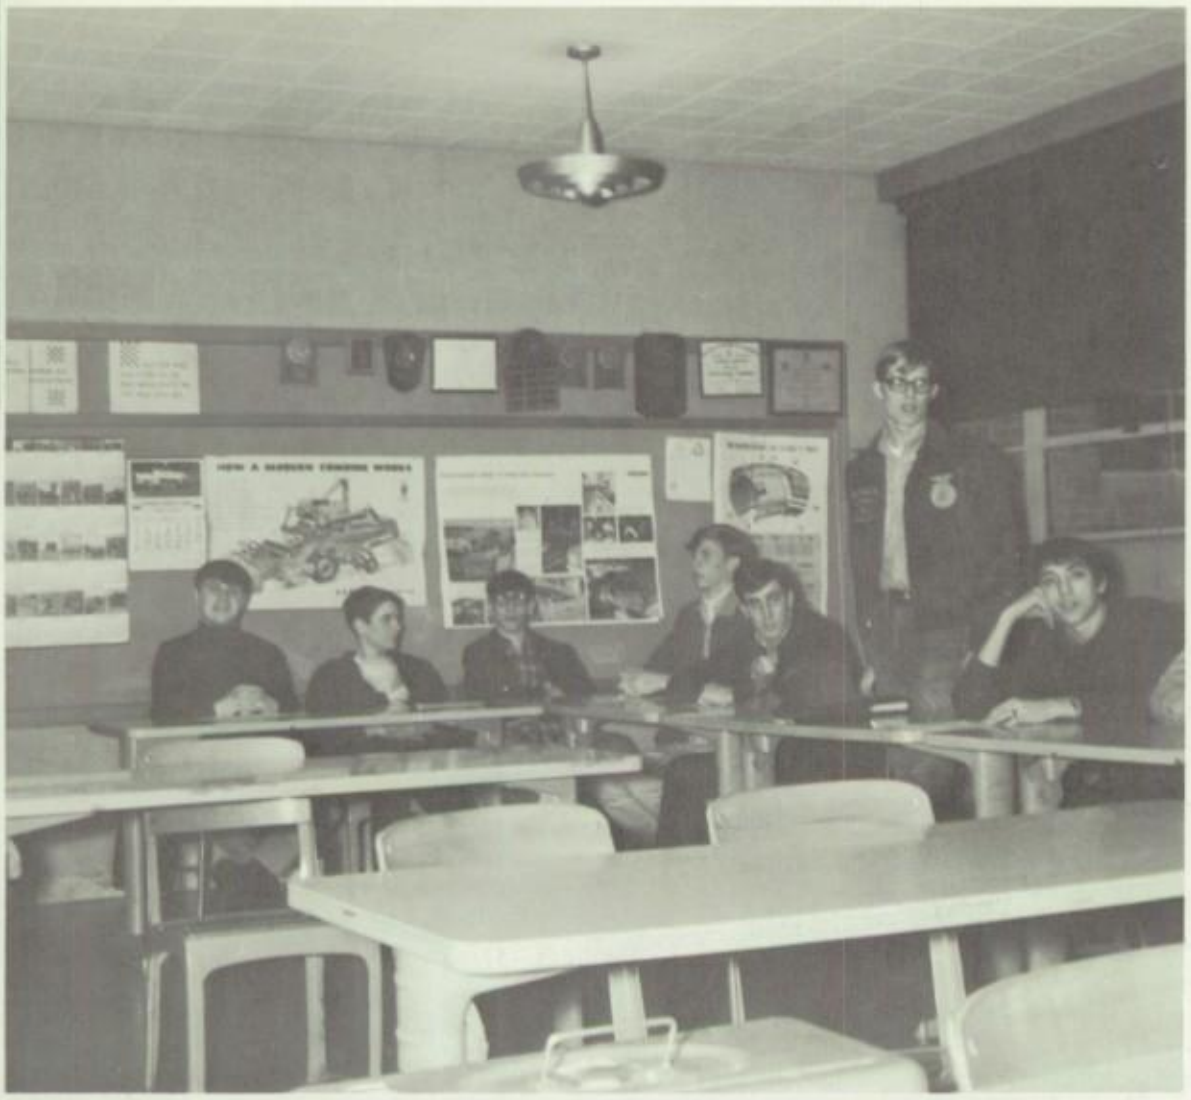
Future Farmers of America



The objective of the FFA is to promote interest in vocational agriculture and in better farming.

The Dundee FFA proved that they have a fairly good Farm Forum team when they tied for the silver rating at Britton. Other competition was Britton, Whiteford, and Ida. Although Britton received the gold rating with Ida as an alternate, the judges stated that there was very little difference in the ratings and that the final decision was difficult to make. The members of the Farm Forum were chairman, Cliff Weyher, Dale Kominek, Chuck Hindbaugh, David Rowe, and Gary Maddox.

The FFA officers also took part in the parliamentary procedure and Lyle Goodridge and Randy Furrow gave the demonstration. Both teams received honorable mention.

Glen Pilbeam has been accepted to try out for entertainment at the Michigan State FFA Convention held at Michigan State University, March 19, 20, and 21. This will be the third year for Glen.

John Arting has been accepted to try out for the National FFA Band which will play at the National FFA Convention at Kansas City next fall. John will go to the Michigan FFA Convention Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday March 19, 20, and 21. James Atwood is the director of the Dundee High School Band.

The Dundee Industrial Arts Club is a unique club in that there are no officers. The purpose of the I. A. Club is to give students who are taking or have had Industrial Arts a chance to work on assigned or personal projects. At Industrial Arts Club each qualified student is allowed to operate power tools while under the supervision of an instructor. The Dundee Industrial Arts Club is a club in name only, but it does provide the student with a chance to work on assignments in an informal situation.

The "Kraut Club", the official name given this year's German Club, is composed of first and second-year German class students. The German Club was newly formed this year for the purpose of helping the German students learn more about the German people and their culture. The club meeting also provides the opportunity to exchange facts through correspondence with their German pen-pals.

We explore further the various aspects of German life and customs, and provide opportunities to increase one's knowledge of the country and the language.

A member may participate in one or more activities: Skit performance, recipe swapping, Learning German songs to teach, corresponding with German Pen Pals, seek speakers and interesting films dealing with Germany, study Germany's geography, or review any of several magazines and books available on most any topic.

In December the Kraut Club sponsored a Youth for Understanding program to encourage more Dundee students to take part in that exchange program. Three students from Germany took part in a question-answer period with the audience, and an enlightening film of an exchange student was viewed.

The Dundee Viking Club

The VIKING CLUB, organized in 1965, is the booster organization for all sports programs of the Dundee Community Schools. The club is non-profit with membership open to all interested adults.

Throughout the football and basketball seasons, we serve refreshments following each home Varsity game to members of the Viking and visiting teams. We have been responsible for the speakers at the Awards Assemblies and have sponsored the annual Sports Banquets. As we are able, we provide the extra and/or special equipment for the teams. We also have provided for two trophies to be presented each year for ten years, the Dick Williams Track Trophy and the Mike Perry JV Football Trophy.

Our projects for the coming year, plus the above commitments, are to finish paying for football's Smitty's Blaster and, possibly, to offer baseball and basketball trophies.

The Varsity Club initiated new members on January 27. Initiation procedure required that new members wear suit coats, bow ties, white socks, jeans, and tennis shoes to school. The initiates were required to perform such commands as walk around the halls on their hands and knees saying they were turtles and push pennies down the halls with their noses. Proposals to girls were commonplace. Also the usual kissing of trees took place.

With completion of the various tasks, the new members gained official status in the Varsity Club. New members include Tom Gephart, Tom Ellison, Pat Funk, Bill Busch, Tom Motylinski, Mark Cauchy, Dan Wyse, Ken Mannor, Steve Clark, Nick Yeck, Cliff Weyher, Bob Grieshaber, and Danny Roy.

The 1968-69 Varsity Baskeball Team, coached by Mr. Robert Johnson, ended up in third place in the Southeastern Conference race. The team was headed by Captain Delbert Gregory, who was the highest scoring player in the conference and in Monroe county. Gregory was lucky to have the able assistance of the other four starting players and the bench. Greg Motylinski, a senior, was very helpful in rebounding and putting in needed points. Mike Curley, a junior, was the second highest scorer on the team and will be very valuable next year. Larry Davis, another junior, helped the team out with his speed. Bill Busch, the only sophomore on the starting team, was a valuable asset to the team with his great dribbling ability and overall basketball performances. John Craig, the sixth man on the team, gave the team needed support. The rest of the team, Tom Ellison, junior, Tom Gephart, junior, Glenn Pilbeam, senior, Howard Kniffen, senior, Jim Winters, junior, and Don De Smith, sophomore, were very helpful at practice by giving the starters a rough work-out and by substituting for the starters.

The Vikings baseball squad was well-balanced and showed tremendous progress as the season came to a close. Coach Ken Whalen stressed the basic fundamentals of baseball, hitting, running, fielding, and most important of all, hustle. When these were applied along with the lucky breaks it takes to win ball games, the Vikings were able to pull out their share of victories.

The first swimming team ever to represent Dundee High School took to the water in a freshman meet with Monroe Custer Junior High on December 6. Ben Myers, former swim coach at Toledo St. John's, is head of the Viking team. He carries mostly 7th, 8th and 9th graders with a few sophomores. Dundee will swim on a junior high and freshman level this year. Myers is hopeful of having a varsity crew in two seasons. He said the Vikings may join the Independent Swimming League of which Erie Mason is a member. Twenty-three swimmers were on hand for Dundee's opener. The Vikings also go up against Mason and Cantrick.

The Dundee Varsity Wrestling Team was coached this year by a student from Eastern Michigan University, Rory O'Connor. Mr. O'Connor turned out to be a fine coach who improved the team greatly over last year. This year the wrestling team had only fourteen wrestlers. The team had to forfeit the 95 lb. weight class all year for the lack of a man to wrestle that position. Next year we hope that more students will participate on the team and as spectators. Dundee had four wrestlers, Lindsey Bates, Mark Cauchy, Mike Falk, Randy Furrow, who received medals in the league wrestling meet which was held at Dexter. The team had three entries to state—Lindsey Bates, Randy Furrow, and Doug McCracken (left).
